

FIG. 3. 1.—Initial configuration of the present numerical simulation. Contour lines indicate the magnetic field lines projected onto the (x, z) -plane. A dark area near the base represents a high density region modeled on massive layers of the sun, such as the chromosphere and the photosphere.